OrderPoint

Visibility and control in title order production

OrderPoint offers convenient order placement and delivery of title production and special services requests you place with Property Insight. Connect with our national network of title search and production experts and track your orders online.

OrderPoint features the following capabilities:

Manage national title production through one interface

- Connect and communicate with a local network of title research and production professionals
- Request standard title production orders or custom research and fulfillment services, including back plant searches
- Establish preferences for order types, notification and fulfillment options and management reports
- Receive immediate email notification that your order is complete and download the finished order in PDF format

Experience true flexibility in order placement

You can access OrderPoint through TitlePoint® and TitlePoint Xpress®, or use the OrderPoint Web portal located at orderpointservices.com.

You can also connect with OrderPoint through your workflow application via Web Services / XML for even greater convenience.

We'll even accept email and Fax orders that we will enter into OrderPoint on your behalf so you can enjoy the benefits of online order tracking.

OrderPoint adapts to the way you do business

Set your preferences for order-types and elements, order tracking, reporting and notification, routing and fulfillment requirements by delivery channel and order type.
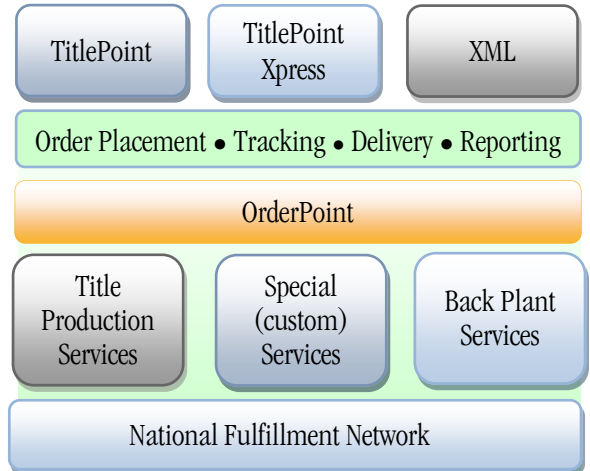

Identify production team members who will receive order alerts and notification of completed orders, with attachments or hyperlinks to files.

Management reporting puts you in command of the facts

Configure OrderPoint to create detailed production and usage reports on a regular basis so you and your management team can easily track order activity and production performance.
